DISCUSSION

A mixture of snow, sleet, and freezing rain will move through the region Saturday evening through early Monday morning. These amounts may vary up or down in areas that experience sleet.

Greater model agreement exists in the amounts of snow and freezing rain. The amount and location of sleet may adjust final accumulations in the warned areas. A Winter Storm Warning has been posted for Bourbon County KS eastward into the Lake of the Ozarks, Lebanon, and Rolla areas, for 2 to 5 inches of snow along with accumulations of sleet and freezing rain. An Ice Storm Warning has been posted for portions of the eastern Ozarks. ¼ to ½ inch of freezing rain is expected to accumulate. Wind gusts up to 35 mph in these areas are of concern as well.

Convection (thunderstorms) will locally enhance frozen accumulation.

Areas south of the warning will be monitored for a possible upgrade.
