CENTERSTONE

Services offered at the YRC

Youth Behavioral Crisis Center – A 24/7 walk-in center providing immediate mental health and substance use crisis support for youth ages 12–18 and their families.

Partial Hospitalization Program – A highly structured, intensive day program offering 5+ hours of clinical treatment and skill-building for youth five days a week.

Intensive Outpatient Program – A flexible, three-days-per-week program delivering evidence-based mental health treatment for youth alongside active parent involvement.

Multisystemic Therapy (MST) – An intensive, in-home, family-focused intervention that addresses the multiple systems influencing youth behavior to keep them safe at home and in school.

Youth Residential Treatment Program – A trauma-informed, clinically intensive residential program for youth ages 12.9–17.9 who need a safe, supportive environment when less-restrictive options are not sufficient.

How to access YRC services

Youth Behavioral Health Crisis Center –

Walk-in access for youth ages 12–18.

PHP, IOP, and MST – Accept referrals for youth ages 12–18 through internal pathways for clients already engaged in Burrell/Centerstone services.

Youth Residential Program – Serves youth ages 12.9–17.9 and continues to accept internal referrals and referrals through the Residential Referral Committee.

If a youth is not currently receiving

Burrell/Centerstone services, referrals may be made through our Walk-In Connection Centers or by having guardians work with the Youth Behavioral Health Liaison (YBHL) team to get connected to care.

We poured our hearts into this space

Hope lives here. Even on hard days.
