Stephanie Hamilton with pre trial services gave a quick synopsis of the services they offer to Greene County. Pretrial recently met with court staff in December to explain how the courts can use their services. Hamilton explains how they are also wanting to work closely with judges clerks to insure wording is clear so that when they release defendants there isn't confusion. Currently there are 30 under GPS or SCRAM. 130 defendants are under supervision with 180 cases under pretrial. County Administrator Chris went into detail to explain the report writing history of pretrial. Hamilton mentioned that in 2018 they had wrote over 503 reports, they are hoping to write even more reports in 2019. There is a bill that Pretrial is watching closely that pertains to bail reform.

IS director Jess Kerr gave the Commission an update. The fiber to Wrights Auto building has been completed and the building is now up and running. Cameras will be installed by end of the day today. Commissioner Bengsch asked Kerr what IS biggest concern for the 2019 budget was. Kerr explained that desktop computers, laptops and phones are of concern as they are ending their end of life and won't be able to receive important updates. Bengsch asked Kerr if the infrastructure was funded, a previous concern of Kerr's. Kerr explained IS has been given the ok to upgrade switches with the budget and will proceed with upgrades after budget approval. Patrol laptops for the Sheriff's office is another concern as they are out of warranty but IS will work to stretch them another year. A brief discussion of the OSCA systems that are used by court and juvenile ensued.

With no other business the meeting was adjourned by Dixon.
